Band Sunday

Under the leadership of Bandmaster Geoff Nunn, the band is pleased to take responsibility for the meetings today. The morning meeting will focus on our understanding of Holy Ground with the band offering a number of meditations such as 'Love Divine', 'Green Hill' and 'How Sweet the Name' culminating with a relatively new piece of music entitled 'Shekinah'. In Jewish literature 'Shekinah' means The majestic presence or manifestation of God which has descended to "dwell" among mankind. Major Peter Forrest (Band Sergeant) will explore the scriptures from the book of Haggai. As we approach a new era in the Corps, an opportunity will be given to write a prayer for the Corps and/or our new Commanding Officers. These will be collected during the early part of the meeting and pasted onto a prayer scroll.

The evening meeting will feature the band using the music of salvationist composers: Marshall, Himes, Curnow and Graham together with J.B. Senaillé and Ralph Vaughan Williams - culminating in Brian Bowen's meditation 'The Suppliant Heart' as we contemplate the message contained in the words 'O come to my heart Lord Jesus'. The band's prayer is that through our worship of God today you will be drawn closer to him and hear from him as you invite his presence (his Shekinah) into your heart.

8pm Youth Fellowship will be at the home of Debs & Richard Debonnaire
