11th February 2018

Welcome to Bromley Temple on this Self Denial 2018 launch Sunday. Today's meetings are being led by Major David Jackson, who is Assistant Personnel Secretary at Territorial Headquarters. David is known amongst many in the corps, and we look forward to his leadership and ministry today.

Information regarding this year's appeal is being issued separately, and we know that once again the corps fellowship will support the appeal intelligently and sacrificially. Our Altar Service Sunday will be on 4th March and will be led by our own Lt. Colonel Bev and Major Brian Slous (IHQ).

This, our time of self-denial
We as faithful soldiers keep;
By our consecrated giving
Wider fields our comrades reap.
Souls in darkness yet are calling,
Come and help us, still they cry;
With our gifts our hearts outpouring,
We will help them lest they die.
(Will Brand)

Bromley's Three Faiths Forum

Bromley's Three Faiths Forum began back in the Autumn of 2017 to promote understanding and mutual respect between the three mono-theistic faiths: Judaism, Islam and Christianity. The Revd. Stephen Varney is the coordinator of the group.

The first meeting was a panel discussion, answering questions from the audience, then in October the Rabbi from Bromley Synagogue spoke in Keston Mosque about Judaism, and last month the vicar from St. John's spoke in Bromley Synagogue about Christianity.

The next meeting will take place on Monday 19th February 7:30 – 9pm in the Church Hall adjacent to St. John's Church, Park Road, BR1 3HJ when Omar Taha will speak about the Islamic Faith, followed by a question time. All are welcome.
