23rd September 2018

Welcome to our meetings today. We hope and pray that there will be something that is said to draw you into a new relationship with Jesus or closer to Him in your walk of faith.

Today has been designated by The Salvation Army as International Prayer Focus for Victims of Human Trafficking. This morning we will be focusing on praying into this terrible modern day problem. We will consider the story of that character Joseph – the dreamer – actually an ancient story about human trafficking and consider how we can be part of restoring broken dreams – our own and those around us. We will look to Jesus and follow his example and also briefly delve into the small New Testament book (all of one chapter) of Philemon to consider what our response should be.

'Relationships will not thrive by us pursuing punishment for those who have wronged us. But by the innocent responding by being merciful.'

We are grateful to our Songster leadership, who will be responsible for leading our evening meeting.

As you worship God, and hear His Word, may you allow Him to transform you, that those you interact with this coming week, may come to know Him as their Saviour and Lord.

Every blessing to you
Iain and Alison
